Re: Lucid Love

Dear Ms. Veronica Cabada and Mr. Sal Montelongo,

Thank you for dedicating time to the juveniles who are part of the El Paso Municipal Court Juvenile Case Management Program (JCM).

Being a Prevention and Intervention program, we strive to educate our juvenile offenders and their families at their entry into the justice system when receptivity is at its highest and before the progression of further delinquency compromises the quality of their lives and of our community. When we heard about your organization, Lucid Love, we were eager to invite you to speak to our juveniles for the Life Skills Class on bullying..

During the Life Skills Class the Court brings in four to five educational speakers to engage our juveniles on pertinent safety topics, including bullying. We strive to raise awareness of bullying so as to combat trauma that has affected a high percentage of our juveniles. We also want to prevent those same juveniles from adopting bullying as an acceptable behavioral norm. Your personal testimony on the tragic effects bullying had on your son powerfully impresses our offenders and their parents. You give them informational tools that allow them to identify the various modes and methods of bullying. They gain an understanding that bullying is not playful teasing that is to be expected and tolerated in society. Rather, they learn that bullying constitutes antisocial aggression that tears apart the bullied victims, their families, their schools, their communities, and even the perpetrator of the bullying.

During the last 12 months, you have presented to our youth a total of six times. Over 200 juvenile offenders in the El Paso Municipal Court's Juvenile Case Management program have benefitted from your compelling testimony.

We hope to retain our partnership with your organization..
